1933 INTRODUCTIONS

SONNY BOY

(Salem Dahlia Gardens)

Here is a monster old rose slightly tinged old gold informal decorative dahlia we predict will make a good showing this year. While we have never forced this dahlia for size, it grows 11x8 inches in the open field without irrigation or fertilizer. It is a hardy variety, insect resisting and makes a good bush of medium height; is a prolific bloomer; flower stems good.

A rooted cutting of Sonny Boy was sent to the Rainbow Dahlia Farms, Inglewood, California, the past season for trial. They report an ideal bush, insect proof, with six 11-inch and four 10-inch blooms out at the same time; blooms wonderful, a most attractive color.

Another was sent to Albert J. Thorne, 1302 King Street, W., Toronto, Canada. He reports that: "It is a little late for this climate but a good grower and makes a beautiful plant; blooms wonderful, 14½ inches across; predicts a good score for this dahlia during 1933."

If you desire a wonderful exhibition dahlia of enormous size, try Sonny Boy. Root, $10.00; three for $25.00.

PROSPERITY

(Salem Dahlia Gardens)

This large dahlia we place in the cactus class. Color pink outer petals, creamy center, with a glistening sheen throughout the entire bloom. Bush growth about five feet. An artistic dahlia that can be grown over a foot across. Root, $6.65; three for $16.00.

CORAL BEAUTY

(Salem Dahlia Gardens)

This medium sized incurved cactus is coral pink with white center although some blooms shade to a solid coral. A very prolific bloomer and a good cut flower with long stems; will keep twice as long as any other variety we know of. Late in the season the center shows but this does not detract from its beautiful appearance. Root, $5.00; three for $12.50.

GOOD WILL

(American Dahlia Farms)

An immense straight cactus, shell pink shading to cream at center; blooms well formed, stems stiff. Another good one by the originators of American Legion. Root, $6.65.
